

Punctureseal

Punctureseal news 2Q 2014

New address

Punctureseal has consolidated its offices and warehouse to a single site. We are now based at Churchlands, Kirdford in West Sussex. This means that the office team and warehouse team are located in buildings 300 metres apart. Our phone number remains the same.

British Standards Institute

We are very pleased register Punctureseal with the British Standards Institute, the first step in getting our product certified with the BSI. Our registration number is 47517496.

Bar codes

Punctureseal has adopted CG1-UK certified products to identify its products.

QR codes

All Punctureseal products now come with QR codes, giving customers access to product information sheets, installation guides and MSDS statements.

Return on investment

We have added a Return on Investment calculator to both our web site www.punctureseal.com/roi.html and our mobile apps www.punctureseal.com/mobile.html

Office 365

Punctureseal has moved to Microsoft Office 365, placing our email and document storage in the Cloud. We are now able to serve customers from multiple devices, including Office for iPad. This extends our 24/7 support of customers and partners.
